Part 1: Connecting your Data Collector to your PC

To synchronize a data collector to Windows Vista, Windows 7, or Windows 8, you cannot use Microsoft ActiveSync. You will need to download Windows Mobile Device Center. This program is, essentially, ActiveSync for the newer versions of Windows.

To find out which the version of Windows your computer is running click on the Start menu, right-click Computer, and select Properties. The version is listed after System Type.

1. Plug in your Data Collector then click the link below to download the Mobile Device Center software and install it.

Part 2: Copying Your Manual to Your Data Collector

Now, that you have connected your data collector to your PC, you may copy the SurvCE manual to the data collector.

Locate the Carlson SurvCE manual, which you have saved to your PC. Right-click on the file and select COPY. DO NOT EVER SELECT CUT, because you may lose your data.

1. Go back to Windows Mobile Device Center. Click on File Management, then "Browse the contents of your device."

2. Double-click on "/" folder.
